Dear Parents,

I hope everyone enjoyed the ice day! I'm hoping that the extra day off gave everyone a chance to get healthy and rested☺ I want to thank everyone who purchased books from the book fair for our classroom library! We have been reading them daily and the kids love the new additions to their book bins. We are a lucky class!

Friday marked the end of the 3rd quarter...only one more to go until we have 2nd graders! Report cards will be posted to your family access next Friday. If you have any questions or concerns about your child's grades, please let me know! Here is a look at the week ahead:

Reading: We will be reading Happy Fall! and learning about the vowel diphthongs ou and ow. The story quiz and spelling test will be Friday.

Math: We started our unit on graphing and the kids are loving it. We will be taking surveys of our classmates and graphing the results in the coming weeks. We will also continue to practice addition with regrouping.

Science: We finished up our animal research reports this week and the students did a great job! Attached you will find a note about a STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering, Math) project dealing with animal adaptations that students will be completing at home.

Please remember that spring break is coming up. The students will be off from Monday, April 10th-Monday, April 17th. School will resume on Tuesday, April 18th. I hope everyone has a terrific weekend. I'll see you Monday☺

~Annie
