Dear Parents,

I hope everyone had a great Spring Break! I really missed the kids and it is great to get back into the swing of things. I cannot believe that next week is the last week of April. We have been practicing being "2nd graders" to get the kids ready for next year and they are doing a great job☺ I know the next several weeks are just going to fly by...I am so proud of all of the students' accomplishments and hard work! Here is a look at the week ahead:

- Reading: We started our 6th and final unit in the reading series this week. Next week we will be reading Whistle for Willie and learning about the vowel digraphs au and aw. The story quiz and spelling test will be next Friday.
- Math: We started our unit on measurement and the kids are having a great time measuring things around the room☺ We will continue with this concept next week as well as learning more about telling time.
- Science: We finished up our unit on plants this week and will start our unit on sound. We will have another STEM project to go along with the unit that I'm sure the kids will love!

I hope everyone has a great weekend! It sounds like the weather is supposed to be more "spring-like" so I hope you can get out and enjoy it! I'll see you Monday☺
